The following proposal comes to the Graduate Council from the Admissions and Recruitment Committee based on our study of the Bologna degrees:

I. Current policy in on-line Graduate School catalog:

ADMISSIONS CRITERIA

ADMISSION OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

"Each international applicant must hold the equivalent of a four-year bachelor's degree from an accredited institution to be eligible for graduate admission."

II. Proposed change:

"Each international applicant must hold the equivalent of a US four-year bachelor's degree from an accredited institution to be eligible for graduate admission. While individual departments may have more stringent requirements, bachelor degrees from Bologna Accord certified institutions are generally considered to meet this criterion."
